About HCL?Japan

Japan is one of the strategic development markets of HCL and we have a strong presence in Japan thus providing all the advantages expected of a local Japanese vendor with the added benefits of cost merit, international exposure and CMM levels of quality.

Highlights of our Japan operation are:

- Long term relationships with top Japanese companies
- Good understanding of Japanese business processes and practices
- Continuous process improvement & institutionalized learning
- Japan Business Unit (JBU) located in Noida and Chennai; exclusively for Japan with long term commitment to the Japanese market
- Over 1000 engineers working on Japanese projects
- Onsite technical coordination by bilingual engineers and Japanese language experts
- Continuous training programs to impart knowledge of Japanese language & culture

HCL Japan is providing a wide range of services to its Japanese clients through its time tested project management methodology specially designed for this market. Some of areas in which HCL has been working with its clients include product design and development, embedded software, enterprise solutions, application development, management and maintenance, web solutions, and quality consulting.

At HCL Japan, we understand the need to understand and effectively deliver to the Japanese market by addressing the cultural and language diversities. Hence, we operate a specialized business unit called the Japan Business Unit (JBU) which is an organization based in India and part of the entire Japan delivery operations. The JBU handles not only the language and cultural aspect in terms of training engineers, but also plays an extremely pivotal and important role in program management and customer experience.

The Clients

HCL Japan has 25+ running accounts and we work with some of the biggest names in Japan, including NEC (with whom we have a JV since 2005), Konica Minolta, and Kyocera, to name a few.
