会社説明

Quest Global - A global engineering solutions company with over 23,000 employees and operations in 22 countries worldwide!

Quest Global is a rapidly growing global company in the currently trending field of engineering outsourcing. With over 23,000 employees in 22 countries, it operates a BPO (Business Process Outsourcing) business for renowned global companies across a wide range of industries, including aircraft engines, civil and defense aerospace equipment, medical devices, oil and gas facilities, power facilities, automotive and transportation equipment, semiconductors, telecommunications, and industrial equipment. It provides complete product lifecycle solutions focused on the engineering needs of cutting-edge technology companies worldwide. While it's said that only about 4 out of 10,000 companies can maintain double-digit annual growth rates after more than 10 years of operation, Quest Global is one of the rare companies that has consistently maintained an average annual growth rate of over 30% from its inception to its 10th year. Its long-term relationships with clients speak to its high level of trust and technical expertise. A vibrant company that continues to provide numerous cost advantages to its clients through a business model that mixes local and global services, Quest has been strengthening its organization for Japanese clients since 2014. (As of October 2026)
