Company Description

Engaging people around the world

We believe it is the resonance created between consumers and companies that influences the world.

That is why we strive to engage people with cutting edge technology, delivering voices to you, creating smiles.

GMO Research & Al offers an online research solution platform that allows access to our multi-panel and multi-country online panel network - Asia Cloud Panel. While we are constantly expanding our reach in Asia and globally, Asia Cloud Panel consists of over 47 million online consumer panelists across 16 APAC countries/markets, ranging from consumers to CEOs.

We are engaging the people around the world, to create resonance of people's voice and the goodwill of companies for better innovation.

- MO Lite -The most cost-effective solution for conducting online surveys
- MO Insights Online Qual tool x APAC's Largest Panel Network
- Healthcare Insights Network Empowering your healthcare research with findings from Japan
- Voice Of Gamers We help game companies gather actionable insights over the course of planning, development and release.
