

IES Abroad (Institute for the International Education of Students)

Company Description

IES Abroad

One of the nation's oldest, largest, and most reputable study abroad providers, IES is a growing Chicago-based, not-for-profit organization that enrolls more than 5,000 students annually.

In 1950, twenty U.S. college students boarded the SS Volendam bound for Vienna to participate in the first IES program (formerly known as the Institute of European Studies). Today, nearly 70 years later, the study abroad experience still elicits the same response from students--that it irrevocably changed their lives. With more than 75 programs in 34 cities (starting 2008-09), IES is dedicated to broadening our global reach and continuing our commitment to offering students outstanding academic options coupled with every-day opportunities for cultural immersion.

IES is also committed to the study abroad field, providing valuable leadership through organizations such as the Forum on Education Abroad, NAFSA (the National Association for Study Abroad), and the Lincoln Commission.
