SThree K.K.

Company Description

The global STEM workforce consultancy
At SThree, we connect sought-after specialists with dynamic organisations around the world. We advise businesses, build expert teams, and deliver project solutions to drive innovation across STEM sectors.

Outpace tomorrow, together

Bringing skilled people together to build the future
SThree is the global STEM workforce consultancy.

We fuse ambition, expertise, and technology to help dynamic organisations drive innovation and solve complex challenges. Since 1986, we've been pure-play specialists in STEM, building a global team of 2,700+ people across 11 countries who understand the goals of STEM professionals and the organisations that rely on them.

We partner with companies to shape strategy, build expert teams, and deliver end-to-end project solutions through our seven specialist brands. Each brand brings deep sector knowledge to high-demand fields such as life sciences, tech and engineering, energy, digital and creative, and financial services. By combining global reach with local expertise, we push beyond traditional boundaries to deliver tailored, fully compliant solutions that help organisations outpace tomorrow, together.
