

Momentive Performance Materials Inc.

Company Description

- Established in November 2006. It is a company engaged in the R&D, production and sales of silicone products as a business.
- Japan subsidiary of Momentive Performance Materials, a global company that manufactures and sells silicones worldwide
- We have a long history of business in Japan, with more than 50 years since the establishment of our predecessor Japan corporation and more than 47 years at the Ota Plant.
- In the Momentive Group, the Ota Plant is positioned as a world-class manufacturing base.
- Although we are a foreign-affiliated company, we have a culture that values "harmony", which is Japan culture. We have a substantial welfare system in place so that employees can play an active role with peace of mind.
- Education and training: A wide range of training is available, including various skills training (e.g. presentations, e-mail writing, etc.), leadership training, English language training, and e-training.
