

Asian Productivity
Organization

Asian Productivity Organization

Company Description

The Asian Productivity Organization (APO) was established on 11 May 1961 as a regional intergovernmental organization to contribute to the sustainable socioeconomic development of Asia and the Pacific through enhancing productivity. Currently there are 21 member countries.

Company Details

Head Office

Japan

Main Business

The APO conducts more than 100 projects a year to promote productivity among its members in the industry, service, and agriculture sectors under the five key roles of 1) Think tank, 2) Catalyst, 3) Regional Adviser, 4) Institution Builder, and 5) Clearinghouse for productivity information.

President

APO Secretary-General, Mari Amano

Established

11 May 1961

URL

<https://www.apo-tokyo.org/>

Offices

Main Office

Leaf Square Hongo Building 2F
1-24-1 Hongo, Bunkyo-ku
Tokyo, Japan, 1130033