DANIELI JAPAN

Danieli Engineering Japan Co., Ltd

Company Description

An international, multicultural team covers the full spectrum of technology, from iron ore to the different finished products. After years of proven success, we have confirmed our position as the world leader for minimills and long products rolling mills, and the most recent achievements in flat products and the final acquisition of Danieli Corus in Ijmuiden (Holland) have solidified Danieli's position in the field of the full integrated plants.

With our original mottos - “Danieli the reliable and innovative partner in the metal industry” and “we do not shop around for noble equipment”, - we have added now “Danieli a step ahead”, which expresses our determination to improve our current performances. To do this, we launched a program called “Metamorphosis 2”: innovation to our operating methods/patterns and consequently to our organization in order to enhance the technical and economic competitiveness, speed, quality, customer service. Further to accomplish this, our managers are taking regular courses, to gain the skills necessary to deal with the demands of today’s world. Also our motto - “A step ahead in Capex and Opex”, expresses our desire to transfer the same concepts to our partner customers.
