

GAC JAPAN Co., Ltd.

Company Description

GAC JAPAN possesses a deep understanding of international business needs, in addition to its many years of experience supporting global companies. We have accumulated invaluable practical experience in IT consulting and engineering services for over 10 years (more than 20 years since the establishment of our parent company).

GAC JAPAN offers wide range of IT services with end-user support and hardware maintenance, such as networking equipment, computers, servers, etc. as well as resale of IT products to global companies with business presence in Japan. Our engineers have thorough knowledge of the Japanese telecommunications and electrical standards obtained through many years of experience in the field IT support. We provide excellent bi-lingual support to your regional IT support team, to help save their time as well as propose better and more effective solutions.

GAC JAPAN can collaborate with office solution partners such as office designs, furniture, multifunction machines and consumables supplies. We can also realize plans smoothly bilingually as a single point of contact.

In recent days, we have also been actively recruiting new graduates. Please contact us if you are interested.
