

Nemoto Kyorindo co., Ltd.

Company Description

The words of our customers are our jewels.

Since its foundation in 1939, the company has achieved steady growth as a medical equipment manufacturer. In the beginning, Nemoto Kyorindo engaged in the sales of medical equipment. Our desire to contribute more to the medical field led us to become a manufacturer of surgical tables and surgical equipment. Following later we jointly developed with a doctor conducting the first cerebral angiography in Japan a contrast injector. This was a major change for our business. The technology we accumulated through this development became the trigger and the driving force for creating the world's first injectors specialized for MRIs and CT scans. Thanks to all of you, we are overwhelmingly trusted and liked by all of you, leading us to become the company that we are today.

With the expectations placed on medical treatment continually increasing, image scanning and imaging devices continue to evolve. Contrast agent injectors play a crucial role in achieving the full performance and effect of this image scanning process. We at Nemoto Kyorindo will continue as always to bring ourselves to our customers' sites in order to hear customers wishes directly and will aim to produce even better products that support this evolution in order to contribute to medical treatment.
