

G-angle Co., Ltd.

Company Description

Quality is everything for us.

G-angle is a full-service production company that localizes and creates high-quality content from Japan to the world.

Giving shape to everything you see and hear.

Based in Tokyo, Japan, G-angle has a creative team of 90 people that offers a full range of quality production services. Our company was established in 2002 by a group of musicians, and we initially started our business in music production for mobile phone ringtones. As smartphone technology advanced, we expanded our business into illustration, video, and web content production as well as system development, and successfully evolved into a full-service production company.
