

UPS Group

Company Description

The story of UPS, the world's largest package delivery company, began more than a century ago with a $100 loan to jumpstart a tiny messenger service.
How we evolved into a multi-billion-dollar global corporation reflects the history of modern transportation, international commerce, logistics and financial services. Today, UPS is customer first, people led, innovation driven. It's powered by more than 534,000 employees connecting more than 220 nations and territories across roads, rails, air, and ocean. Tomorrow, UPS will continue to lead the industry and connect the world, with a commitment to quality service and environmental sustainability.

- 11.5 million pick-up and delivery customers
- 5.5 billion packages delivered per year
- More than 10,300 alternative fuel and advanced tech vehicles
- 528,000 employees
- 294.9 million online tracking requests daily
- More than 220 nations and territories served
- About 125,000 package cars, vans, tractors and motorcycles
- More than 1,800 operating facilities
- 2003, formal name change to UPS (from United Parcel Service)

Moving our world forward by delivering what matters.
This is our purpose.
It's the essence of our DNA – the foundation of our work. It reflects our desire to do what's right, to serve others, and to improve the quality of life for people around the world.
It's not just what we do-- it's why we do it. It guides every decision, every day.
Simply put, it's the reason we are here.
