

SOLUM Japan Co., Ltd.

Company Description

Innovating businesses with the most advanced ESL technology since 2007.

Our Mission is to become the global ESL leader by delivering advanced end-to-end digital labeling solutions to every business.

History

As a spin-off company of Samsung, SOLUM has 45 years of experience with wireless communication technologies and devices. SOLUM's technical excellence, combined with proven product quality enables us to lead the world in ESL technology innovation.

We are the only ESL supplier with its own manufacturing facilities—allowing us to shorten development time, maintain high standard quality control, optimize the supply chain system, and most of all, maximize cost competitiveness.

SOLUM is founded on a broad technological basis and immense industry know-how. We invest deeply in innovation, design & product development, to achieve the highest standard of quality. This enables us to develop and sustain long-lasting relationships with our customers and strategic partners across the globe.
