Company Description

Clarksons is at the heart of maritime global shipping. Our mission is to enable smarter, cleaner global shipping trade and help create sustainable, positive change.

We offer a complete ecosystem of maritime services, covering shipbroking, research, finance, digital tools, port services and green-driven advisory services. Each element of our maritime integrated offering is powered by intelligence and backed by market-leading technology in order to give you authoritative insight, industry know-how and smarter solutions.

The combined strength of our maritime service offerings sets us apart, allowing us to deliver bespoke solutions, tailored to your business needs. With five industry-leading business lines within one powerful group, we flex and fit our in-house expertise to meet your individual requirements. Clarksons' unrivalled reach, expertise and depth of experience allows us to develop innovative solutions that support you to make better-informed decisions and deliver on your objectives.

With 64 offices in 24 countries, we strive to provide the best in class services to an ever-wider and increasingly diverse client base across all sectors of the shipping industry by providing those clients with unrivalled professionalism and support in the markets where they operate.
