

LNG JAPAN CORPORATION.

Company Description

"We aim to contribute to the realization of a prosperous society through a sustainable energy supply."

LNG Japan's most important mission is to contribute to the stable supply of LNG to Japan and other Asian countries with a core focus on projects in Indonesia and Qatar. For achieving this mission, we have been working on every business segment within the LNG supply chain, from upstream development, LNG production, LNG transportation as well as LNG trades including all aspects of implementation for LNG delivery under LNG SPA. In recent years, we have also become involved in new gas field development projects in Australia and domestic gas supply initiatives in Indonesia, seeking to diversify our areas of operation.

The energy industry landscape has been changing rapidly over the past few years, presenting the challenge of balancing energy stability with the goal of achieving a low-carbon society. In this context, LNG and natural gas are increasingly recognized as essential transition energies. In response to these changes, we are committed not only to ensuring gas resources and building the LNG supply chain but also to producing and supplying high-quality LNG and natural gas that integrate well with other energy sources.

The knowledge and expertise we have gained through our involvement in the LNG value chain and our successful trading endeavors form the foundation of our ability to meet societal demands. Supported by strong relationships with our partners, our employees strive for excellence, embrace change, and actively create new value for our company. Together, we work towards "realizing a better society that is environmentally friendly."
