Company Description

Solutionware, Inc. is an IT enterprise that primarily leverages two core business pillars: a highly specialized system construction and operation business for the electric power retail industry, and a versatile solutions business focused on Salesforce, the world-leading cloud CRM platform. The company is dedicated to supporting the Digital Transformation (DX) initiatives of its client base.

In-Depth Business Analysis:

1. Electric Power Retail System Business: Solutionware provides comprehensive support for system construction and operation to new electric power companies that emerged following the deregulation of the Japanese power market. A key service is the construction and operation of the Electric Power Customer Information System (CIS), a mission-critical system that manages the entire workflow—from meter data acquisition and tariff calculation to invoice generation and customer relationship management. Furthermore, the company is proactive in developing systems that address contemporary energy sector needs, including specialized buyout tariff calculation systems for customers whose Feed-in Tariff (FIT) period has expired (post-FIT), and electric power tracking systems designed to verify and trace the value of renewable energy, thereby ensuring compliance and adaptation to market changes.
2. Salesforce Business: This division offers a full spectrum of services covering the entire Salesforce ecosystem. Services include detailed construction services built on a profound understanding of client operational challenges across sales, marketing, and customer service. They also provide crucial improvement support services to maximize the ROI of existing Salesforce implementations. Solutionware handles all major Salesforce products, such as Sales Cloud for sales force automation, Service Cloud for enhanced customer service, Pardot for marketing automation, and TableauCRM for advanced data analytics. Their proficiency extends to the development frameworks like Platform (Lightning / Classic), the cloud application execution environment Heroku, and various applications available on the AppExchange, ensuring holistic support for clients' digital strategies.
