

Checkout Kabushiki Kaisha

Company Description

At Checkout.com, we're inspired by the mindset of athletes. We put their rigour, discipline, and constant pursuit of achievement at the heart of what we do.

We are born competitors; our sole purpose is to help our customers win in their respective categories. It's like being an athlete driving toward a personal best or Olympic gold.

We chase basis points in what matters most to our customers: more revenue, lower costs, quality data, and better customer experiences. We never settle. We know it's a simple equation: to combine payment performance, rapid innovation, and the best possible service. That's what merchants look for in our partnership.
