

MARIAN KID'S INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

Company Description

Marian International School Co., Ltd. is a distinguished educational institution that has been at the forefront of early childhood English education in the Kansai region since its establishment in January 1999. For over 25 years, the school has remained steadfast in its commitment to its core philosophy: "Filling children's pockets with love." This guiding principle reflects the school's belief that a foundation of emotional security and affection is essential for effective learning and holistic personal growth.

[Business Operations and Locations] The company specializes in operating international preschools for children aged 1 to 5. It currently manages three strategic campuses: the Kyoto Campus (Nakagyo-ku, Kyoto), the Nagaokakyo Campus (Nagaokakyo City, Kyoto), and the Otsu Campus (Otsu City, Shiga). In addition to the full-day preschool program, Marian International School offers specialized after-school programs. These programs ensure that graduates and elementary students can continue to develop their English proficiency in a familiar and supportive environment, fostering long-term educational success.

[Educational Philosophy and Curriculum] What sets Marian International School apart is its immersion-based approach to language acquisition. Rather than treating English as a mere academic subject, the school integrates it into every facet of daily life—from morning greetings and lunchtime conversations to physical education and creative play. The curriculum is designed to be balanced and comprehensive. While English is the primary medium of instruction, the school places equal importance on Japanese cultural values, manners, and seasonal traditions. This "dual-cultural" approach ensures that students grow up with a strong sense of their own identity while developing the open-mindedness and communication skills necessary for a globalized world.

[Work Environment and Culture] With a diverse workforce of approximately 70 employees, the company prides itself on an inclusive and collaborative professional atmosphere. The teaching staff is a mix of native English speakers from various countries and experienced Japanese educators. This multicultural synergy creates a dynamic workspace where ideas are shared freely, and staff members are encouraged to innovate. The school provides a supportive environment for career development, emphasizing teamwork and a shared passion for childcare. The longevity of many staff members is a testament to the positive and rewarding nature of the school's culture.

[Legacy and Future Outlook] The success of the school's methodology is evidenced by the achievements of its alumni. Graduates of Marian International School are recognized for their high levels of confidence, social skills, and linguistic ability, with many going on to excel in prestigious private and international elementary schools. As the demand for high-quality English education continues to rise in Japan, Marian International School is well-positioned for future growth. By combining over two decades of experience with a modern, child-centered approach, the company remains a leader in shaping the next generation of global citizens.
