

CEM CORPORATION

Company Description

CEM CORPORATION, established in July 2008 and headquartered in Shibashi, Minato-ku, Tokyo, is a highly specialized trading company operating in the global market. Rooted in its group sister company, Sankei Bussan Co., Ltd., which was founded in 1951, CEM Corporation leverages decades of accumulated expertise, deep industry knowledge, and an extensive global network to act as a premier "Value Coordinator" connecting international clients and manufacturers.

The company's core operations are divided into three primary business pillars: Chemical (chemical raw materials and resin products), Electronic (electronic materials), and Machinery (various industrial machinery and precision equipment). Despite operating with a highly efficient and elite team of 10 employees, CEM Corporation has established exceptionally strong and stable business relationships with leading global manufacturers and domestic corporate clients, enabling high-value-added trade solutions with a high level of speed and flexibility.

Our business structure is divided into two main categories: Import Operations and Export Operations.

In our Import Operations, we maintain a robust strategic partnership with South Korea's leading chemical and materials manufacturer, Kolon Industries, Inc. Through this collaboration, we import and distribute advanced functional materials into the Japanese market. Our diverse product portfolio includes high-grade PET Film, which features outstanding strength and heat resistance for protecting electronic components and packaging; CPI (Colorless Polyimide) Film, a next-generation material that replaces glass in foldable, rollable, and wall-mounted displays; Tire Cord, a crucial reinforcement material determining tire performance and durability; and Spunbond non-woven fabrics, utilized heavily as industrial materials for architectural waterproofing, civil engineering, and reinforcement.

In our Export Operations, we actively export premium chemical products, industrial materials, machinery, and production equipment manufactured in Japan to international markets. Our primary destinations include South Korea, China, Vietnam, Indonesia, and other Asian nations, as well as North American regions like Mexico. By utilizing our deep understanding of local market trends and maintaining agility, we deliver optimal solutions that perfectly bridge global supply and demand.

CEM Corporation goes beyond traditional trading; we create new value by integrating market intelligence with logistical and technical synergy. We remain committed to fostering sustainable industrial growth, enriching global supply chains, and continuing our journey as a trusted, irreplaceable global partner.
