Job Description

Job Summary:

With the increased volume of business and partnerships at AINEO Networks, we are now looking for a bright driven individual to join the team to directly work alongside our Managing Director at our Tokyo office. Given that AINEO is a growing venture company, this role will have administrative, personnel and talent management coordination, accounting, and corporate communication elements in the scope of work. As such, the future personal growth possibilities are wide open.

In short, AINEO is looking for a bright, quick, and flexible person with some administrative experience or organizational skill to join our team in Tokyo.

Job Responsibilities:

- Providing secretarial and administrative function for MD's day-to-day operations
- Update company and service blogs and websites (announcements, articles, business updates)
- Procurement of office supplies including stationery, equipment, etc.
- Support finance team in managing accounts payable/accounts receivable to report back to MD
- Work closely with MD to improve operations, marketing, and set growth goals
- Manage and organize MD's business and personal agendas including:
  - Liaise and relay incoming contacts (phone, messages) for MD
  - Accurately and comprehensively take notes at executive meetings
  - Plan travel, flights, accommodation and ground transportation
  - Coordinate events, appearances, and appointments
  - Draft correspondence such as emails and letters
  - Administration assistance on side non-profit organization (NPO) work

Not only is an Executive Personal Assistant well rewarded, but also has an invaluable chance to develop technical, interpersonal, and business skills, from the close involvement in the executive level agendas and international connection each week.
