Job Description

We're on the lookout for a talented ETL Developer who can turn complex data into clean, structured insights. If you're driven by precision, love solving puzzles, and want to be part of a team that values innovation, this opportunity is for you.

Responsibilities:

- Build and maintain data pipelines that move and transform information from multiple sources into usable formats.
- Work closely with analysts, engineers, and business units to understand data needs and deliver reliable solutions.
- Ensure data processes run smoothly and efficiently, identifying and fixing issues when they arise.
- Keep documentation up to date for workflows, data structures, and system configurations.
- Apply best practices in data validation, cleansing, and performance tuning.
- Contribute to the evolution of our data architecture and support strategic data initiatives.

Qualifications:

- A degree in Computer Science, Information Technology, or a related discipline.

- 3+ years of hands-on experience with ETL tools like Talend, SSIS, Informatica, or similar platforms.
- Strong command of SQL and experience working with relational databases.
- Exposure to cloud environments such as AWS, Azure, or Google Cloud is a plus.
- Familiarity with scripting languages like Python or Bash is advantageous.
- Solid understanding of data warehousing principles and data modeling.
- A proactive mindset, attention to detail, and strong communication skills.
- Fluent in English both written and speaking.
