Job Description

COMPANY OVERVIEW

A leading drug discovery center specializing in advanced antibody engineering and peptide technologies, this organization plays a pivotal role in developing innovative therapies for diseases with high unmet medical needs. Operating from Singapore's Biopolis research hub, it supports global R&D initiatives through cutting-edge science, strategic collaborations, and a commitment to patient-centric innovation. As part of a major international pharmaceutical group, it contributes to the development of transformative medicines across multiple therapeutic areas.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- Prepare accurate financial reports and maintain complete accounting records in line with current standards.
- Execute monthly financial close activities.
- Support compliance with financial reporting and tax regulations, acting as a point of contact for auditors, tax consultants, and government agencies.
- Identify opportunities to improve business processes and enhance operational efficiency.
- Administer accounting systems, including managing user access and system settings.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

- Bachelor's degree in Accountancy.
- Prior experience in accounting, preferably in Accounts Payable.
- Solid understanding of local accounting standards and tax regulations.
- Familiarity with SAP B One and SAP S4 Hana is preferred.
- Detail-oriented with strong organizational and time management skills.
- Able to work independently and communicate effectively, both verbally and in writing.
