Job Description

Job Responsibilities

- To be part of the residential team of a renowned foreign developer which is expanding real estate business in Malaysia.
- To form JV partnerships with local renowned developers and closely monitor the projects as minor shareholder.
- Establish and maintain strong relationships with potential JV partners, primarily in the condominium, serviced apartment, and landed housing sectors.
- Conduct feasibility studies and financial modeling to assess investment opportunities.
- Perform in-depth market research, including supply-demand analysis, transaction trends, pricing dynamics, competitor benchmarking, and macroeconomic factors.
- Support and take initiative in negotiations, deal structuring, due diligence (land and JV), documentation, and financing processes.

- Assist in preparing investment proposals for internal management approval.
- Collaborate with JV partners throughout the project lifecycle, offering strategic input on design, planning, cost control, marketing, regulatory approvals, tendering, construction, and financing.
- Monitor project performance, including business plans, P&L projections, and cash flow, to ensure alignment with target returns.
- Actively participate in strategic discussions with partners, particularly in areas such as sales, marketing, and financial planning.

Job Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Real Estate, Project Management, Construction, Business, Finance, or a related field.
- More than 2 years of relevant experience in the real estate industry, ideally with a developer, financial institution, or investment fund.
- Solid understanding of real estate development processes, legal frameworks, and industry standards.
- Proficient in feasibility analysis and market research.
- Strong interpersonal and problem-solving skills, with the ability to thrive in a multicultural, multidisciplinary environment.
