Job Description

Project Manager – Luxury Hospitality & Lifestyle Projects

Are you a master of coordination with a flair for luxury and design? We're looking for a Project Manager to lead high-touch hospitality projects that span hotel openings, custom product development, and experiential programs. This is a rare opportunity to work at the intersection of creativity, logistics, and client engagement—bringing visionary concepts to life across some of the world's most refined destinations.

???? Singapore | ??? Global Exposure | Bespoke Experiences

What You'll Do

- Drive end-to-end project execution for hospitality initiatives, from concept to delivery.
- Liaise across internal teams—design, sourcing, logistics—and external partners to ensure seamless execution.
- Translate creative briefs into actionable plans, managing timelines, budgets, and quality standards.
- Oversee product development cycles including sampling, costing, and approvals.
- Anticipate challenges and resolve issues proactively to maintain project momentum.
- Contribute to process improvements and operational excellence.

What You Bring

- Degree-qualified with experience in project management, product development, or procurement—ideally in hospitality, luxury retail, or design.
- Strong organizational skills and the ability to manage multiple concurrent projects.
- Excellent communication and stakeholder management abilities.
- Analytical mindset with a proactive approach to problem-solving.
- Fluency in English is essential; Mandarin is highly advantageous, and Japanese is a plus.
- Comfortable with digital tools including project management platforms and CRM systems.
- A genuine appreciation for luxury, design, and curated guest experiences.

Why This Role Stands Out

- Work on globally recognized hospitality projects with high-impact outcomes.
- Collaborate with a diverse, creative team that values precision and innovation.
- Be part of a fast-paced environment where no two days are the same.
- Shape experiences that leave lasting impressions on guests around the world.
