Job Description

Company Overview

Our client is a leading Japanese construction and engineering firm specializing in infrastructure development, civil engineering, and urban development projects. Renowned for its expertise in large-scale construction, they have a strong international presence and a reputation for delivering high-quality, innovative solutions. They are committed to sustainability and integrating advanced technology into its project execution. As they continue to drive growth and expansion, they are now seeking a Construction Manager to join their team and contribute to their ongoing success.

Key Responsibilities

- Plan and oversee the construction of shafts, substations, buildings, and other related activities.
- Actively participate in daily and ad-hoc meetings with clients, providing updates on site progress.
- Review and prepare comprehensive method statements for client submission.
- Diligently monitor and track site progress, ensuring seamless coordination with subcontractors.
- Directly manage civil construction aspects, including earthwork, concrete and steel structures, diaphragm walls, earth anchors, piling, and girder installations.
- Undertake any other duties as assigned by superiors.

Key Requirements

- Degree in Civil Engineering recognized by the PE Board/Resident Engineer accepted qualifications.
- Minimum of 10 years of progressive engineering experience.
- At least 5 years of hands-on experience managing civil and infrastructure construction work for projects.
- Proven experience in large-scale Civil and Infrastructure projects, such as those undertaken by the Land Transport Authority (LTA).
