Job Description

COMPANY OVERVIEW

A long-established Japanese manufacturer that has been in business for 75 years. Our main business is the manufacture of chemical products, lubricants, engine oils, etc. In particular, many of our products are for the automotive industry, and we offer automotive chemical products such as lubricants and cleaning agents. The company has a base in Germany and a global manufacturing and sales network.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

They are seeking an IT Business Analyst to join our IT department in Dormagen / Düsseldorf.

In this role, you will drive process optimization, digital transformation, and AI adoption while acting as a key partner between business teams and global IT.

WHY THIS ROLE IS ATTRACTIVE

- Lead Digital & AI Transformation: Leverage Microsoft 365, Azure, Power Platform, and AI tools to drive meaningful improvements

- High Degree of Ownership: Influence both local German operations and global initiatives through close collaboration with global IT (US)
- A career-enhancing hybrid role combining strategy, technology, and operational excellence
- International Environment: Collaborate across Germany, Japan, and global teams
- Japanese language is a plus, making it a great fit for bilingual / multilingual professionals

JOB REQUIREMENTS

COMPETENCY (“Must”)

- Degree in Computer Science or related field, or equivalent hands-on experience
- Practical experience in Business or System Analysis
- Experience with Microsoft services (Microsoft 365, Azure) and ability to implement process improvements
- Strong documentation skills for workflows and processes
- Excellent communication skills in English

COMPETENCY (“Nice to have”)

- Experience with AI/RPA tools such as Power Automate, M365 Copilot, UiPath
- Initial experience leading digitalization or AI-related projects
- Business level German or Japanese language skills

- BENEFITS

Working hours: 40 hours per week (flextime, telecommuting available)

- Location: Dormagen / Düsseldorf
