Job Description

We are seeking a capable Business Analyst to support enterprise-level system implementation projects in the banking and financial services sector. You will play a key role in bridging communication between business users and development teams.

Responsibilities

- Engage with clients to gather, clarify, and document business needs and requirements.
- Translate business objectives into detailed functional specifications and user stories.
- Collaborate with project managers, architects, and developers to ensure solutions align with expected outcomes.
- Analyze current processes and recommend improvements or workflow automation.
- Support solution design, configuration activities, system testing, and user acceptance testing (UAT).

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree or higher in Business, IT, Computer Science, or related fields.
- Minimum 2 years' experience as a Business Analyst, ideally in the banking or financial services domain.
- Background in system implementation or integration projects is highly advantageous.
- Strong analytical, problem-solving, and documentation skills.
- English communication skills, Japanese language ability (N3+) is a plus.
