Job Description

Partner Alliance Manager (Japan) – Digital Marketing / SaaS

About the Company

A global technology company providing a leading customer data and AI platform that helps enterprises improve marketing performance, customer engagement, and operational efficiency. The business is evolving beyond traditional data platforms into AI-driven marketing solutions.

Role Overview

We are looking for a Partner Alliance Manager to drive growth through strategic partnerships with advertising agencies and digital marketing partners in Japan.

This role acts as a business driver, working closely with partners to generate revenue, build joint solutions, and expand market presence.

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and execute partner strategy and long-term collaboration plans
- Drive pipeline generation and revenue through partner channels
- Lead co-selling activities with partners
- Build strong relationships with senior stakeholders (CXO level)
- Create and execute go-to-market (GTM) initiatives with partners
- Identify new opportunities to leverage data and AI solutions in marketing

Working Style

- Tokyo-based role
- Office presence required (5 days per week)

Required Skills

Requirements

- 5+ years of experience in business development, alliances, or enterprise sales (SaaS, IT, advertising, or consulting)
- Experience working with or managing agency / partner ecosystems
- Strong understanding of digital marketing (performance marketing, CRM, data utilization, etc.)
- Ability to own strategy and execution end-to-end
- Experience influencing or working with senior stakeholders
- Japanese (native level) and English (business level or above)

Ideal Profile

- Strong commercial mindset
- Comfortable working with partners and driving revenue
- Hands-on and proactive
- Able to operate in a fast-moving, evolving tech environment
