Job Description

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Our client is a leading IT consulting company in Japan, supporting clients' transformation of management, business, and IT.

We are looking for a PMO or BA that will support Senior Directors and other managers in delivering IT consulting services to Japanese mega banks and various financial institutions.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- Identifying client issues, developing proposals based on IT solutions, and related consulting activities.
- Manage project progress and issues, and prepare reports or other project deliverables based on the assigned role.
- Analyze business processes, develop business requirements, and produce related specifications according to the project role.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

- Bachelor's degree in Information Technology or a related field is preferred.
- Project management certifications, such as PMP, are preferred.
- Candidates should have PMO and/or Business Analyst experience supporting Commercial/Corporate Banking initiatives, with exposure to core banking domains such as deposits, loans, remittances, and trade finance. Investment banking or wealth management project experience is also welcomed.
- 3+ years of experience in IT consulting or related fields.
- 3+ years of experience either managing and driving system implementation projects as a PMO, or in operations planning as a Business Analyst, is preferred.
- Strong communication and negotiation skills, with the ability or willingness to engage with clients to identify issues, propose solutions, and persuade stakeholders.
- Strong documentation skills, particularly in preparing project management deliverables.
