Job Description

【求人No NJB2217321】
The Solution Architect plays a crucial role in recommending tailored Infor solutions that align with the customer's business environment objectives and effectively address their business challenges and opportunities. They possess a deep understanding of the customer's business drivers and existing IT landscape. The Solution Architect ensures the feasibility of the proposed solution and presents a roadmap for its implementation.

Operating across multiple solution domains the Solution Architect leverages their extensive knowledge of the Infor solution portfolio to identify the necessary components for constructing the most suitable solution for the customer. They are typically dedicated full time members of the project delivery team and bring expertise in industry segments such as Process Manufacturing（Food Beverage Chemical Industries） and Discrete Manufacturing（Automotive Industrial Industry）.

Required Skills

Basic Qualifications:

Experience in enterprise solution architecture ideally within SaaS ERP or industry specific platforms.
Experience as a solution architect in one or more of Infor's core industries（e.g. Manufacturing Healthcare Public Sector Hospitality Distribution）.
Experience architecting large scale multi tiered cloud solutions in hybrid and multi cloud environments.
Experience of modern architectural principles including API integration microservices data lakes and DevOps pipelines.
Experience influencing senior executives both internally and externally.
Presentation experience; able to distil technical content for a non technical audience.
Experience working for a global matrix organisation.
