Job Description

Our client is a leading Malaysian manufacturer of PCBs with over 35 years of industry experience. Strategically located in Penang, they specialize in the manufacturing of high-quality multi-layer and High-Density Interconnect (HDI) PCBs, serving the automotive, consumer electronics, telecommunications, medical and industrial sectors across domestic and international markets.

Job Descriptions

- Oversee day-to-day factory operations to ensure PCB production targets for quality, cost, delivery, and safety are met.
- Overview process design, material mapping for current and new models to achieve best efficiency
- Drive continuous improvement to reduce defects, rework, and customer complaints.
- Oversee PCB manufacturing processes including imaging, drilling, plating, etching, solder mask, surface finishing, and testing.

- Control manufacturing costs through waste reduction, yield improvement, and process optimization.
- Support customer visits, technical discussions, and problem resolution.
- Ensure audit readiness for internal, customer, and certification audits.

Job Requirements

- Degree in related Engineering field.
- Min 10 years' experience in PCB manufacturing industry
- Familiar with All Processes of Double sided, Multilayer (at least up to 12 layers) and HDI
- Able to read and write in English. Knowledge of Japanese language is an added advantage.
