OVERVIEW OF POSITION

The Program Coordinator supports the growth and ongoing development of the Master in Management (MiM) program, with primary responsibility for recruitment and admissions coordination, program communications and marketing, CRM management, and the development of recruiting and student success events.

Working closely with the Program Director, Program Assistant, Career Advisor, faculty, and relevant university offices, the Program Coordinator helps ensure consistent and engaging experience for prospective students from initial inquiry through admission and transition into the program, while also supporting the program's visibility and student community.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIESRecruitment & Admissions

- Coordinate prospective student engagement from initial inquiry through the admissions process
- Serve as a primary point of contact for prospective students, responding to questions and providing information about the program, admissions requirements, timelines, and next steps
- Coordinate recruitment activities, including information sessions, sample classes, fairs, and other prospective student events
- Conduct follow-up communication with prospective students and applicants to support progression through the admissions funnel
- Monitor applicant progress and work with relevant university offices to identify and follow up on incomplete applications or outstanding requirements
- Coordinate and conduct admissions interviews, working closely with the Program Director and Fox's admissions team.

- Support admitted students during the transition from admission to enrollment, coordinating handoffs with the Program Assistant as appropriate
- Track recruitment and admissions activity and provide regular updates on the prospective student pipeline

Recruiting Events

- Coordinate the planning of recruitment-focused events, including information sessions, sample classes, admitted student events, and recruitment fairs
- Coordinate participation by students, alumni, faculty, and other stakeholders
- Work closely with the Program Director to develop event agendas, presentations, communications, and other content needed to effectively represent the program
- Work closely with the Program Assistant on event logistics, including room reservations, catering, setup, materials, and other operational requirements
- Track participation and follow up with attendees after recruitment events

CRM & Data Management

- Maintain accurate and up-to-date records for prospective students, applicants and admitted students within the program's CRM systems
- Track prospective student engagement, application status, recruitment activities, and communications
- Develop and maintain processes to ensure consistent CRM usage and data quality
- Generate reports and analyze recruitment and admissions data to support program planning and decision-making
- Maintain contact lists and audience segments for prospective students, students, and alumni

Marketing, Website & Communications

- Draft and coordinate program marketing and recruitment content, including emails, newsletters, announcements, presentations, and promotional materials in Japanese and English
- Coordinate updates to the MiM website in Japanese and English and ensure program information remains accurate, current, and aligned with university guidelines
- Work with relevant university teams and external partners on marketing and promotional initiatives
- Identify student, alumni, faculty, and program stories that can be used to strengthen recruitment and program visibility
- Support the development and maintenance of a consistent MiM program voice and messaging across communications and social media channels
- Collaborate with the Program Director and TUJ Communications and Marketing team to develop ads, and keep brochures, marketing materials, YouTube, and social media content up to date

Student Success

- Lead the development of MiM student success activities that strengthen student engagement and community, while managing the program's events budget
- Collaborate with the Program Director to develop event concepts and programming that reflect the international and intercultural nature of the MiM student body
- Coordinate with students, faculty, alumni, and external partners to develop meaningful community-building activities
- Work with the Program Assistant to coordinate the operational and logistical elements of events, and to develop and maintain clear pre-arrival and post-arrival resources to help students navigate administrative processes and life in Japan
- Together with the Program Assistant, provide support for incoming international students, including guidance on mandatory post-arrival administrative procedures
- Gather student feedback and evaluate participation to continuously improve program activities

Program Support & Collaboration

- Support the Program Director with program development initiatives, special projects, and activities related to recruitment, program growth and student success
- Collaborate closely with the Program Assistant to ensure effective handoffs between recruitment/admissions activities and student onboarding and enrollment processes
- Work with the Career Advisor to identify opportunities to incorporate alumni and employer engagement into program communications and events
- Liaise with university departments and the Main Campus as needed on recruitment, admissions, marketing, and communications matters
- Contribute to the continuous improvement of program processes, systems, and the overall prospective and current student experience, as well as alumni engagement

APPLICATION PROCESS

Review of applications will begin immediately and will open until filled. Desired start date is October 1, 2026 or shortly thereafter.
