Job Description

[Business description]

As a technical staff of die casting manufacturer, you will be responsible for all technical staff such as mechanical design using CAD and production management.

Even those who have little knowledge of machine design and the like have solid training and guidance, and can work while developing their skills. I also work in English because there are Indian engineers inside the company and there are several overseas branches.

· It's using CATIA V5 as my main product.

[Company information]

It is a global company with its headquarters in Yamanashi Prefecture and its overseas offices already with 3 bases including the United States. International students who can speak English may be transferred to an overseas branch after working in Japan for several years.

[Support]

You can get company housing for 5000 yen/month.

It's a great deal because 5000 yen includes utility bills, gas, minimum furniture, and more!

There is also a cafeteria, gymnasium and ground.
