About the company:
Eighty Days was founded in 2016 with the aim of using tourism to promote and revive rural regions of Japan. We are focused on bringing overseas customers to Japan to enjoy unique, off the beaten track experiences in places they would not have thought of traveling to. Eighty Days won the top prize at the 2016 Yunus & Youth Japan Social Business Design Contest.

Job description:
We are currently looking for a bilingual English-Japanese speaker to service our overseas customers. Our customers are mostly based in English-speaking countries and come to Japan on vacation. As a customer communicator, you must listen to their needs and create great itineraries that will take them across Japan. Your goals will be to sell tour products as well as book hotels, restaurants and activities. You will be required to communicate with customers by email and phone.

Essential tasks:

- Communication with customers
- Creating itineraries
- Booking land services such as accommodation, transportation, entrance tickets etc.
- Supporting tours
- Handling emergency situations
- Business trip (in Japan for site inspections)

Selection Process
Document Screening
Interview Process (3 stages), and Take home assessment.
※At least one of the three interviews will be conducted in-person.
