募集要項

Imagine leading large-scale digital initiatives for some of the world's most recognizable brands, projects that millions engage with every day. From major automotive campaigns to global website rollouts, your work won't just meet deadlines, it will shape how brands connect with people around the world.

As a Project Manager, you'll be at the center of global digital and content initiatives, working where creativity meets strategy and technology. You'll take the lead on planning, timelines, budgets, and resource coordination, while collaborating with Producers, Developers, Account Managers, and creative teams. You'll also bridge the gap between business and technical teams, ensuring clarity and alignment every step of the way. This role requires sharp leadership, problem-solving skills, and the confidence to drive clarity in fast-paced, international environments.

If you're someone who thrives on bringing order to complexity, loves solving challenges, and enjoys working in an international, fast-paced creative environment, this could be the role you've been looking for.

What You'll Do

- Own complex, large-scale web and digital projects from inception to delivery across multiple regions and departments.
- Act as the strategic lead connecting creative, digital, and production teams to ensure smooth execution.
- Build detailed project plans, scopes, schedules, and budgets, aligning all stakeholders along the way.
- Coordinate with Digital Producers, Content Producers, Strategists, and Developers to translate client visions into executional excellence.
- Proactively manage risks, flag scope changes, and push back on unclear or unrealistic requests.
- Maintain project health: monitor timelines, budgets, quality, and resource allocation while always keeping the big picture in view.
- Interface with international clients and internal teams bridging technical and creative communication with clarity and authority.

What You Bring

- Solid experience in project management or digital/web production.
- Hands-on work with web development, digital platforms, or content creation projects.
- Strong understanding of digital tools (e.g., Figma, HTML5, Jira, Confluence, Microsoft 365).
- Proven ability to manage cross-functional teams and global stakeholders.
- A sharp communicator with excellent judgment, a solutions-first mindset, and the ability to lead with confidence.
- Bilingual in Japanese (N2 or above) and English (business-level) for working with both local and global clients.

Why Join?

This is a rare opportunity to be part of the engine behind world-class campaigns, working on projects that are high-profile, creatively exciting, and operationally complex, exactly the kind of challenge that helps elevate your career.

- Be part of a globally connected production powerhouse that partners with some of the world's most recognizable brands.
- Lead high-impact digital projects that are seen and used by millions.
- Work in a fast-paced, collaborative environment where your ideas and leadership make a real difference.

You'll be based in Toranomon Hills Mori Tower, a prestigious neighborhood in Minato-ku, Tokyo, home to global businesses, international energy, and one of the most desirable places to work in the city.
