募集要項

We're looking for a Sales Engineer to join a renowned European manufacturer known for pushing the boundaries of high-performance systems in the motorcycle and automotive industries.

You'll play a key strategic role in the Japan market, working with one of the most respected engineering powerhouses in the industry.

What You'll Do:

- Be a link between Japanese OEM clients and global HQ.
- Lead technical and commercial communication.
- Oversee orders & delivery management.
- Drive pricing strategy and negotiation.
- Support new business development and strengthen client trust.

---

スキル・資格

3+ years of experience in the automotive or motorcycle industry, technical sales (preferably with direct interaction with OEMs).

- Experience working with international teams, especially with strong communication skills that take into account time zone differences and cultural nuances, particularly with European counterparts.
- Flexibility and adaptability, with the ability to respond effectively to the fast-paced and constantly evolving nature of the industry and projects.
- Native-level in Japanese and Business-level in English.
- Detail-oriented, and capable of managing multiple priorities.
