募集要項

A rare opportunity to lead risk management for a dynamic asset manager expanding its Japan operations. This standalone Head of Department role covers both operational and investment risk, with direct exposure to global and regional leadership. Ideal for a hands-on, buy-side professional ready to make an immediate impact in a fast-paced, high-performance environment.

Client Details

Global financial institution with a strong presence in Asia, known for its employee-owned structure, collaborative culture, and long-term investment focus. The firm is expanding its Japan business and seeks a dedicated risk leader to support this growth.

Description

- Develop and maintain Japan's risk management framework aligned with local regulations and global standards
- Lead investment risk oversight across public and private markets, including valuation and liquidity governance

- Monitor portfolio and investment guideline compliance, escalating breaches as needed
- Drive operational risk and resilience initiatives, including third-party risk and business continuity planning
- Investigate operational risk events and conduct root cause analysis with control recommendations
- Represent Japan Risk in global/regional projects and committees
- Collaborate closely with internal stakeholders across Tokyo, UK, and NY offices

Job Offer

- High-impact standalone role with global visibility
- Fast-paced, performance-driven culture with strong internal collaboration
- Opportunity to shape the risk function during a key growth phase
- Competitive package with potential buy-out/sign-on options for front office candidates
- Clear path to future team expansion depending on business scaling

スキル・資格

- Extensive risk management experience in asset management (buy-side only)
- Strong foundation in investment risk analytics for liquid markets
- Familiarity with Japanese regulatory frameworks (FIEL, JITA, JIAA, etc.)
- Fluent English and Japanese language skills
- Proven ability to work independently and influence senior stakeholders
- Experience working with global teams and cross-border communication
