募集要項

Join QVC Japan as a Senior IT Project Manager to lead complex, high-impact projects that drive digital transformation in retail and logistics.

This strategic role offers the opportunity to manage cross-functional teams, mentor junior PMs, and deliver innovative technology solutions using both Agile and Waterfall methodologies.

Client Details

Company is a global leader in multichannel retail, combining e-commerce, digital platforms, and innovative technology to deliver exceptional customer experiences. It is part of a Fortune-500 parent group, with its global headquarters in the U.S. and teams across Europe and Japan.

The organization is at the forefront of digital transformation, leveraging cutting-edge solutions to optimize retail and logistics operations.

Description

- Drive end-to-end project delivery across the full SDLC, including financial planning, resource allocation, vendor management, and requirements definition.
- Establish project steering committees and secure stakeholder alignment through well-defined charters.
- Lead cross-functional teams to deliver outcomes on time, within budget, and to quality standards.
- Act as Scrum Master for Agile projects and ensure governance for Waterfall initiatives.
- Identify and mitigate risks, supporting Directors in portfolio-level risk assessments.
- Ensure smooth project closure, including operational handover, retrospectives, and financial reconciliation.
