This role is responsible for precisely balancing demand and supply to support the region's growth ambitions while maintaining our commitment to premium quality and service. It is a key middle-management position that requires strategic thinking, strong analytical capability, and the ability to drive alignment across a fast-paced, multi-cultural environment

Key Responsibilities

1. Demand Planning & Forecasting

- Build and manage an 18-month rolling demand forecast for APAC using data models, market insights, and commercial inputs.
- Align stakeholders through regular consensus meetings to finalize a unified demand plan.

- Track forecast accuracy and bias, driving initiatives to strengthen overall forecasting performance.

2. S&OP Leadership

- Lead the full regional S&OP cycle, integrating demand, supply, inventory, and financial plans.
- Facilitate monthly S&OP reviews with leadership, outlining performance, risks, and required decisions.
- Ensure all S&OP outcomes are communicated clearly and executed across the Singapore hub and regional markets.

3. Supply & Inventory Coordination

- Partner with Supply Planning, Logistics, and production teams to convert demand plans into feasible supply strategies.
- Support scenario planning for launches, promotions, and supply-chain risk management.

4. Continuous Improvement & Analytics

- Build and manage KPI dashboards (FA, bias, service levels, inventory health) to drive data-led decisions.
- Lead planning process enhancements and champion digital tools to improve efficiency and agility.

5. Stakeholder & Regional Engagement

- Serve as APAC's main link to global supply chain and S&OP initiatives.
- Evaluate and appoint cost-effective logistics partners for the region.
- Foster strong cross-functional relationships with Sales, Marketing, Finance, and Supply Chain teams.

Qualifications & Experience

- Bachelor's degree in Supply Chain, Business, Engineering, or related field; APICS/PMP certifications preferred.
- 8–10 years' experience in demand planning or S&OP, including regional/multi-country exposure.
- Proven background in FMCG, beverages, or premium imported goods with strong S&OP leadership in matrix environments.
- Skilled in advanced planning tools (SAP IBP/APO, OMP) and proficient in analytics platforms (Excel, Power BI).
- Demonstrated ability to influence stakeholders, manage complexity, and deliver high-quality planning outcomes.

Core Competencies & Skills

- Deep expertise in forecasting, S&OP best practices, and integrated business planning, with strong commercial/financial acumen.
- Advanced analytical skills and the ability to turn complex data into actionable insights.
- Strong communication and stakeholder management capabilities across multicultural environments.
- Agile, results-oriented mindset with the ability to manage multiple priorities in a fast-growing setting.
- Innovative problem-solver with a continuous improvement approach; fluency in English required, with additional APAC languages an advantage.
