Company Overview

A company in the banking industry is hiring for a Treasury Sales Manager position.

This is an exciting opportunity to join a dynamic financial markets team, working closely with Corporate and Private Banking relationship managers to deliver treasury and risk management solutions to clients across Singapore and the region. The role offers exposure to FX, interest rate and commodity-related solutions, while contributing to business growth initiatives, product development, and market strategy execution.

Job Description

- Partner with Corporate and Private Banking Relationship Managers to provide financial market solutions that help clients manage foreign exchange, interest rate, and commodity price risks.
- Support clients across Singapore and the region, with a focus on Chinese corporate and private banking customers.
- Lead and coordinate new product implementation initiatives, including documentation preparation, system testing, and collaboration with relevant stakeholders.

- Develop strategies and marketing plans to enhance FX and derivatives business performance and profitability.
- Collaborate with internal departments to drive business initiatives and support treasury-related activities.
- Prepare and analyze business performance data, identify key growth drivers, and uncover opportunities to expand the business.
- Support management and department-wide initiatives as required.

Qualifications

- Minimum 4 years of experience in the banking industry and corporate treasury environment, preferably within FX or derivatives sales.
- Completed the Financial Markets Regulatory & Practices (FMRP) examination requirements, including RES 1A, RES 1B, CM-SIP, and RES 5.
- Experience working with Chinese corporates or covering a China desk within the Asia/Oceania region is preferred.
- Strong understanding of the Chinese financial market and established professional network within the industry is advantageous.
- Knowledge of foreign exchange, derivatives, and financial market solutions for corporate clients.
- Strong analytical skills with the ability to interpret business data and identify growth opportunities.
- Self-motivated and able to work independently in a fast-paced environment.
- Strong communication skills in both English and Chinese to effectively engage with stakeholders and clients.

We regret to inform that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.
We appreciate your understanding.
