募集要項

Responsibilities

This is a high-profile analytical role focused on delivering in-depth credit and risk analysis, producing high-quality market insights, and engaging with a broad range of financial market participants. You will develop deep expertise within a designated asset class, contribute to industry-leading research, and play a key role in investment and risk assessment activities.

- Conduct comprehensive credit and risk analysis of structured finance and fixed income transactions, providing clear and well-supported recommendations.
- Evaluate complex financial structures, portfolios, and underlying assets to identify key risks and opportunities.
- Present analytical findings to senior stakeholders and contribute to decision-making discussions.
- Produce high-quality research reports, market commentary, and thought leadership publications.
- Monitor market developments, industry trends, and issuer performance to support ongoing risk assessment.
- Engage with market participants, including institutional investors, financial institutions, and intermediaries through meetings, presentations, and ongoing dialogue.

- Perform independent analysis of complex credit portfolios and investment-related risks with minimal supervision.
- Develop insightful research on transactions, market developments, and sector trends to support transparency and informed decision-making.
- Support client engagement and market outreach initiatives related to portfolio and industry developments.
- Participate in strategic analytical projects, process improvement initiatives, and knowledge-sharing activities.
- Mentor and support junior team members, contributing to team development and analytical excellence.
- Lead external meetings and conduct due diligence discussions with relevant stakeholders while maintaining strong professional relationships.

Employee Benefits:
In accordance with Japanese labour law

スキル・資格

- Bachelor's degree required; postgraduate qualification (e.g., MBA, Master's degree, CFA, FRM, or equivalent) is preferred.
- 5-7 years of relevant experience within financial services, banking, asset management, credit analysis, risk management, or related fields.
- Strong understanding of financial markets, credit fundamentals, and the broader economic environment.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills, with native-level Japanese and professional English proficiency.
- Strong analytical and problem-solving capabilities, with the ability to evaluate complex information and develop clear, well-supported conclusions.
- Ability to manage multiple priorities effectively, work independently, and perform well in a fast-paced environment.
- Strong interpersonal and stakeholder management skills, with the ability to collaborate across diverse teams and functions.
- High attention to detail, sound professional judgment, and a proactive approach to delivering high-quality work.
- Demonstrated interest in market developments, investment trends, and financial risk analysis.
- Basic understanding of artificial intelligence and emerging technologies, with a willingness to explore how AI-enabled tools can enhance productivity, decision-making, and operational efficiency. Commitment to the responsible and ethical use of technology is highly valued.
