A leading global financial technology (Fintech) company is seeking an experienced Vice President of Institutional Sales to expand its institutional client business in Japan.

In this senior sales position, you will drive business development, institutional client acquisition, and relationship management across Japan's financial markets. You will work with domestic institutional buyers, develop new business opportunities, and strengthen existing client partnerships to support revenue growth.

The role focuses on promoting advanced digital Over-the-Counter (OTC) trading solutions across Fixed Income, Credit, and Equity Markets. You will deliver software demonstrations, communicate the value of electronic trading platforms, and collaborate with international teams to strengthen the company's market presence.

This is an opportunity for an experienced banking or securities professional to advance their career in Institutional Sales, Electronic Trading, Fintech Business Development, and Capital Markets within an award-winning global financial technology organization.

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and execute institutional sales strategies to expand the company's presence in the Japanese financial services market.
- Drive new business development and client acquisition among domestic institutional investors and financial institutions.
- Build, manage, and expand a strong pipeline of institutional sales opportunities.
- Develop long-term relationships with existing clients to increase engagement, trading activity, and revenue opportunities.
- Identify institutional client requirements and recommend suitable electronic trading and OTC trading solutions.
- Conduct software demonstrations and trading platform presentations for prospective and existing clients.
- Promote the adoption of the company's digital OTC trading platforms across fixed income, credit, and equity markets.
- Collaborate with internal sales support, technology, and business teams to implement effective client solutions.
- Work closely with international colleagues to share market intelligence, client insights, and business development opportunities.
- Monitor developments in Japan's institutional trading landscape and identify opportunities for market expansion.
- Take ownership of assigned client relationships and sales initiatives, ensuring effective execution and commercial results.
- Contribute to the company's overall revenue growth and competitive positioning in Japan's electronic trading market.

スキル・資格
