募集要項

About the role

The Senior Design Manager will lead and oversee design management activities for residential development projects, ensuring high design quality, technical accuracy, and smooth project delivery.

- Working location: The New City Binh Duong

Responsibilities

- Lead and manage the design function for residential development projects.
- Review construction drawings and provide accurate technical guidance to project teams and consultants.
- Coordinate with internal stakeholders, consultants, and contractors to ensure design intent is properly implemented.

- Oversee design quality, compliance, and project timelines throughout the project lifecycle.
- Support decision-making on technical and design-related matters.
- Manage and mentor a team of up to 20 members, ensuring effective performance and capability development.
- Drive collaboration across departments to achieve project objectives.

Requirements

- Extensive experience in residential development projects.
- Strong ability to review construction drawings and provide practical, accurate technical instructions.
- Proven people management experience, including managing teams of up to 20 members.
- Business-level English communication skills.
- Vietnamese or Japanese nationality.
- Typically suited for candidates in their late 30s and above.
- Strong leadership, communication, and stakeholder management skills.

Benefits

- Competitive salary package, negotiable based on experience and qualifications.
- Flexible joining date subject to mutual agreement.
- Opportunity to lead large-scale residential development projects and manage a sizeable professional team.

About the company

A well-established real estate developer specialising in residential development projects, committed to delivering high-quality communities through strong design, technical excellence, and effective project execution.
