募集要項

医療画像技術をリードするグローバル企業で、社員の成長と組織力の向上を支える人材開発スペシャリストのポジションです。

グローバルの人材育成プログラムを日本の事業環境に合わせて展開し、研修の企画・実行から効果検証・改善まで、人材育成戦略を主体的に推進できます。

従業員同士が支え合う、協力的でフレンドリーなチーム環境も魅力です。

L&Dや研修開発の経験と英語力を活かし、人材開発を通じて社員と組織の成長を支え、医療技術の発展に貢献したい方におすすめです。

主な職務内容

- HRビジネスパートナー（HRBP）や各部門のリーダーと連携し、研修プログラムを企画・構築し、実行する。
- 事業目標に沿ったリーダーシップ開発やキャリア開発施策を企画・推進する。
- グローバルで展開される人材育成プログラムを、日本の組織や事業ニーズに合わせてローカライズし、実行する。
- 研修ベンダーや外部ファシリテーターと連携し、研修の企画・運営を推進する。
- 人材育成施策に関するデータ分析を行い、効果検証と継続的な改善につなげる。
- 各部門の人材育成ニーズを把握し、事業目標に沿った研修・能力開発施策の企画に反映する。
- 研修のファシリテーションを通じて参加者の積極的な関与を促し、効果的な学習機会を提供する。

Join a global leader in medical imaging technology as a Talent Management Specialist, supporting organisational development, employee growth and leadership capability across its Japan business.

In this permanent position, you will play an important role in designing, implementing and enhancing talent management and Learning & Development (L&D) programmes that support business priorities and long-term organisational success.

Working closely with HR Business Partners (HRBPs), business leaders and key stakeholders , you will identify development needs, establish effective training initiatives and help employees build the capabilities required for future growth.

You will lead the planning and delivery of leadership development, career development and employee training programmes, ensuring that learning initiatives align with organisational objectives and contribute to a strong talent pipeline.

As part of a global organisation, you will also be responsible for adapting global talent development programmes to the Japanese market, balancing international HR frameworks with local business requirements and workplace culture.

You will collaborate with external training vendors and professional facilitators , coordinate learning activities, analyse programme effectiveness and recommend continuous improvements based on data and stakeholder feedback.

This opportunity is ideal for an experienced Talent Management Specialist, Learning & Development Specialist, HR Development Professional or Organisational Development Specialist seeking a high-impact HR role in Tokyo within the medical technology and life sciences sector.

Key Responsibilities

- Design, develop and implement talent management and Learning & Development programmes that support employee growth and organisational objectives.
- Partner with HR Business Partners, department heads and business leaders to identify capability gaps, training needs and talent development priorities.
- Plan, coordinate and deliver leadership development programmes to strengthen management capabilities and support future organisational needs.
- Develop and execute career development initiatives that encourage employee progression and long-term professional growth.
- Translate global talent management and L&D frameworks into effective local programmes aligned with the Japanese business environment.
- Facilitate training sessions and learning activities, encouraging active participation, engagement and constructive communication.
- Coordinate with external training providers, vendors and professional facilitators to deliver high-quality learning experiences.
- Monitor and evaluate training effectiveness, employee feedback and development programme outcomes using relevant data and performance indicators.
- Identify opportunities to improve learning processes, training delivery and talent development strategies through continuous analysis and stakeholder consultation.
- Build strong working relationships across local HR teams, global HR stakeholders and business functions to ensure consistent execution of talent development initiatives.
